SHORT ACCOUNT

OF THE

The foundation of the present institution was laid in the year 1731, when but few resources for literary research were accessible in America. A small number of gentlemen having subscribed the sum of one hundred pounds, a collection was commenced upon principles well calculated to disseminate knowledge, the books being allowed to be carried to the dwellings of the members of the company for perusal during their hours of leisure.

By slow degrees new members were added to the company, and the stock of books was annually increased by purchases, and by donations; among the donors the then proprietaries of Pennsylvania are to be numbered, and from them a charter of perpetual incorporation was obtained in 1742.*

* On the eighteenth of June, 1738, Dr. Walter Sydserfe, of the island of Antigua, presented to the company, for the purchase of books, the sum of thirty-four pounds, six shillings, three pence, sterling.

Samuel Norris, Esq. a respectable member of the company, bequeathed to the institution, in the year 1746, the sum of twenty pounds. This was the first legacy left to the company.

Abraham Claypoole, by his will, dated July 4, 1750, bequeathed to the company, at the death of his mother, one hundred pounds, Pennsylvania currency, which was paid to the treasurer, with three years' interest due thereon, in August, 1789. It was by mere accident that the directors of the institution obtained a knowledge of this bequest, three years after it became payable. This circumstance gave rise to that useful provision made by the legislature of this state, which enjoins as a duty on the registers of wills, to give notice to the society or incorporated body to whom a legacy shall hereafter be left.

The late William Logan, son of the Hon. James Logan, the founder of the Loganian Library, presented to the institution a number of very scarce and valuable works.

The utility and success of this measure, caused other libraries to be commenced, but it soon appeared to be more conducive to the interests of literature, that there should be one large rather than several small collections of books, and coalitions gradually took place among them, till the Amicable, the Association, and the Union companies were blended with the Library Company of Philadelphia, the title conferred by the charter.

Since this period the members and property of the company have continued to increase, the former being eight hundred and thirty-six in number; the number of volumes exclusive of eight thousand six hundred and sixty-three in the Loganian Library, (of which there is a separate catalogue,) permanently annexed to this institution, at present amounts to thirty-five thousand two hundred and twenty-one, the selection being generally of a character to promote the more important interests of society; this stock is continually increased by occasional donations, importations, and purchases of American productions of merit.

Besides the books, the personal property consists in some available funds yielding interest, the sale of shares, the price of each of which since 1793 has been fixed at forty dollars, and the annual payments of four dollars from each member. The real estate of the company consists of the lot and buildings where the Philadelphia and Loganian libraries are kept.

The members dispose of their shares by transfer or will, but the assent of the directors, as well in such cases, as in case of an original purchase, is previously necessary; a restriction early adopted, in order, as much as possible, to prevent improper persons from having access to a collection of a nature peculiarly liable to injury.

Of the value of the library as a whole, it is sufficient to refer the inquirer to the accompanying catalogue, which, however incomplete in some of its departments, will, it is believed, compare advantageously with any in America. The influence which it has exerted, and con-

John Bleakley, Esq. who had been a much esteemed director of the institution bequeathed to the company the sum of one thousand pounds, which was paid to the treasurer of the institution, in November, 1804, by Joseph P. Norris, Esq. the executor of his last will.

In 1803, the Rev. Samuel Preston, rector of Chevening, in Kent, Great Britain, bequeathed to the company above two thousand five hundred volumes, many of them very splendid works; and two shares of the stock of the first Bank of the United States, the par value of which was eight hundred Dollars. In August, 1804, the company received from London the books, prints, &c. bequeathed by the Rev. Samuel Preston, and an elegant portrait of him, painted by our celebrated countryman Benjamin West, presented to the institution by Mrs. West.

The late William Mackenzie, Esq. of this city, bequeathed five hundred volumes to be chosen by the directors from his English books; he also made a liberal bequest to the Loganian Library, and by an arrangement made with the executors of his last will and testament the residue of his valuable library was purchased on very liberal terms by the two institutions.

Dr. Thomas Parke, who had, with great fidelity, served the institution as a director for nearly fifty-seven years, bequeathed to the company a perpetual ground rent of fifty dollars per annum, free from taxes—valued at one thousand dollars.

tinues to exert, on the character of the city in which it is located has been and is highly beneficial. During the period when the congress of the United States, and the legislature of the state met in Philadelphia, the use of its treasures was freely granted to the members; and though it is desirable that the library should not partake of the character of a reading-room, the Athenæum supplying that desideratum, citizens and strangers are permitted to consult the books without charge.

An act to authorize the Directors of the Library Company of Philadelphia to increase the annual payment of the Members of the said Company.

WHEREAS, by the charter of the said company, the annual payments directed to be made by its respective members appear limited to the sum of ten shillings, which, from the depreciation of money since the year one thousand seven hundred and forty-two, when the said charter was granted, has become inadequate to the purposes originally intended: And whereas, the stockholders in the said company, at a general meeting on the sixteenth of March, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-five, instructed the Directors to petition the Legislature to pass a law authorizing the said Directors to increase the said payments to two dollars, and it appears reasonable that the prayer of the said petitioners should be granted.

Section 1. Be it therefore enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Directors of the Library Company, for the time being, be, and they are hereby, authorized to increase the annual payments hereafter to be made by the members of the said company, to the sum of two dollars from each member of the said company, any thing in the charter thereof to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding.

An Act to amend the Charter of the Library Company of Philadelphia.

WHEREAS, it has been represented by the Directors of the Library Company of Philadelphia, and appears to the Legislature that the members of said Company are desirous their Charter may be altered so as to vest in themselves the power to enlarge the amount of their annual payments:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passing of this act, it shall and may be lawful for the members or stockholders in the Library Company of Philadelphia, at their general meetings, to fix, alter or enlarge the annual payments thereafter to be made, from time to time, as they shall deem just and reasonable; and also, if they think fit, to authorize the Directors, for the time being, so to fix, alter, or enlarge the same, any thing in their charter or by-laws to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding: Provided always nevertheless, That the same shall, at no time, be fixed at less than two, or more than five dollars per annum, exclusive of accustomed penalties or forfeitures for delay or neglect of payment.

BY-LAWS.

A Law directing the manner of admitting new members.

It is enacted by the Library Company of Philadelphia, That no person who shall hereafter become possessed of a share in the books and effects of the said company, shall be thereby entitled to a vote in any of their affairs, or be deemed a member, without first being approved of by the Directors for the time being; nor shall any person, other than the heirs, executors, or assigns of a member of the said company, be entitled to a share in the books, estate and effects of the said company, without paying into the hands of the said company's Treasurer, so much money as in the judgment of the said Directors a share shall then be worth.

None to be admitted, without being first approved, &c.

And it is further enacted, That upon approbation of the Directors, and payment of the said money, the party paying it, shall receive of the Treasurer a certificate under his hand, and the seal of the company, containing the name of the person and the sum paid, the time when, and the account or use for which he paid it: of all which a record shall be made in the records of the said company. Which certificate shall entitle the person therein mentioned, to a share in the company's books, estate and effects, and to be deemed a member.

Treasurer to give a certificate.

Record to be made.

A Law for preserving a just equality among the members, and to prevent the inconveniences that may arise by any persons holding more than one share.

It is enacted, for the preservation of a just equality among the members of the Library Company, That no person being a member, and holding a share in the library, &c. shall grant, sell, or convey to any other member, or accept of a grant, bargain, sale, or other conveyance or assurance from any other member, of any share or shares in the books, estate, and effects of the said company; on penalty of forfeiting to the company such share or shares, so purchased, sold, granted, or conveyed.

No member shall sell his share to another member, &c.

Penalty.

And if any member, as executor or administrator of another, or by any other means, come to have in his hands a plurality of shares, he shall not thereby be entitled to more than one vote at elections, or on any other occasion, nor have a right to take out more books at one time than any other member.

No member to have more than one vote, &c.

A Law for regulating elections of officers, and declaring their trust and duty.

For the better preservation of order and government among the Library Company of Philadelphia, and in the use, application and management of the moneys, library and effects of the said company,

Members to meet on the first Monday in May.

IT IS ENACTED, That the members of the said company shall, in person, or by proxy, annually attend at the place of election in the city of Philadelphia, on the first Monday of the month of May, in every year; and that as many as so meet, and appear to be duly qualified, shall proceed to the choice of a person of the company, to be the company's Treasurer, and ten other persons of the company, to be Directors for the year next ensuing, and so from year to year. The place of election to be agreed on by the Directors of the current year, and notified by their Secretary, twenty days at least before the election, by printed advertisements. The electors to choose by written tickets, each containing the names of the ten persons voted Directors, and the name of the person voted Treasurer; and those who shall thereupon appear to have a majority of votes, shall be the company's Treasurer, and the Directors, respectively, for the year ensuing.

Treasurer and ten Directors to be chosen.

The choice to be made by written tickets.

Directors to appoint a Secretary, who shall collect the votes, &c.

That the said Directors shall, and are hereby required and empowered, to nominate some fit person of the company to be their Secretary for the year ensuing, who shall preside and collect the votes at the election aforesaid, and shall faithfully enter, in a book to be kept for that purpose, the names of the said electors, and the number of the names of the candidates, according to the tickets.

Electors to appoint assistants to the Secretary, &c.

THAT it shall and may be lawful to and for the electors aforesaid, when so met, to appoint persons to assist the Secretary in gathering the votes, and entering and numbering the names of the electors and persons voted for, and other service appertaining to the election, and to appoint and direct any method and rule in proceeding to and making the said election, so as they appoint or direct nothing to prejudice the right of any member, or infringe the charter or laws of the company.

Director refusing to act, &c. the rest may nominate another.

THAT if any person elected Director, shall refuse to act, or shall happen to die or depart this province, so as to be absent for the space of two months, in any of the first ten months of the year for which he shall be elected Director; or if within the same year, or term of his office, he shall be confined by sickness, or otherwise rendered incapable of executing the office of a Director, according to the true meaning hereof, the rest of the Directors, as often as occasion shall require, in any of the cases aforesaid, shall proceed in their duty and office without him; or, if they think fit, they shall nominate some other suitable person to supply his place of a Director, until the then next ensuing election.

Treasurer neglecting his duty, &c. may be displaced, &c.

THAT if any person so elected Treasurer, shall absent himself from his said office for the space of thirty days, or shall otherwise be rendered incapable, or neglect his office or duty of Treasurer, in the judgment of the Directors for the time being, it shall and may be lawful for the Directors to displace him from any longer continuance in his said office: and the Directors causing their Secretary to make a minute for the purpose, containing their reasons for displacing him, he shall thereupon, and from thenceforth cease to be the Treasurer aforesaid; and shall, upon notice thereof, adjust and settle with the Directors, and pay and deliver the company's money and effects in his hands, to such person as the Directors shall order and appoint: and in that case, and so often, and also if the Treasurer shall depart this life, the person who at the last election had the greatest number of votes, next the highest (if alive, willing and capable) shall be substituted Treasurer, to supply the place of such deceased or displaced Treasurer; for which purpose the Secretaries presiding at elections shall preserve the votes: but if the said person cannot, or will not, serve, the Directors shall nominate another person of the company, but not of their own number, to be Treasurer until the next annual election.

How the vacancy is to be supplied.

That every person so chosen to be the company's Treasurer, immediately upon entering into his office, shall receive of the preceding Treasurer, his heirs, executors or administrators, the company's cash and books of accounts, giving his receipt for the same; and shall enter into an obligation, with one sufficient surety, in double the value that doth, or probably may come into his hands during the continuance of his office, as near as can be estimated by the Directors, unto the Library Company of Philadelphia, conditioned that he will once a month, or oftener, if required, well and truly adjust, account and settle with them, for and concerning all moneys that are or shall come into his hands, belonging to the said company; and that he will well and truly deliver up and pay the balance of the moneys remaining in his hands, together with the books of accounts concerning the same, and the company's papers in his keeping, unto his successor in the said office, or such other person or service as the Directors, for the time being, shall order and appoint, and not otherwise; and that he will observe, do, and execute all other things as the company's Treasurer aforesaid, according to the sense and true meaning of this law.

Treasurer to enter into obligation, &c.

That all officers and servants belonging to the company, other than their Treasurer, shall be in the choice, and under the order and direction of the Directors, who shall be accountable for their fidelity, and may displace them, and appoint others, as often as they shall think fit: which Directors shall have the power of calling general meetings, when they judge it necessary for the interest of the company, and shall cause due and public notice to be given of the occasion and design or purpose of such meetings; and shall nominate some discreet member to preside therein, and regulate the debates thereof: they shall also have the disposal of the moneys paid to the Treasurer to and for the use and service of the library; they shall have the choosing of books for the library; the renting a house or place for the service of the library; the furnishing the same with presses, shelves, and other things necessary and fit; the keeping and power of affixing the seal of the company; which seal shall be and remain the same that is now used and affixed to this law, until another shall be appointed; the lending of books; the appointing securities for the return of the books to the library, and the prices of the loans; the printing and dispersing of catalogues; the admission of new members, under the limitations and conditions now or hereafter to be established by the laws of the company; the settling the accounts with the company's Treasurer; the payment of house-rent, servants, and officers' wages, and all other incident charges belonging to the company. Moreover the Directors are hereby invested with a discretional power to make suitable returns (on behalf of the company) unto such benefactors as shall honour them by donations or otherwise.

Directors to choose the other officers, &c.

Directors, their power and duty.

Directors to meet monthly.

AND for the more orderly execution of the duty and trust belonging to the said Directors, they are hereby required to meet once a month at the place where the library shall be kept, or some other fit place in the said city of Philadelphia, to confer and conclude concerning the matters hereby committed to them. In every of which meetings of the Directors aforesaid, seven of their number met shall be a quorum, capable to consult, confer, and conclude of, and upon all matters appertaining to the Directors, according to the laws and constitutions of the company; and whatever six of the number so met shall so conclude, shall be deemed and taken for and as the resolution of the Directors for the time, and accordingly entered in their minutes.

Seven of them a quorum.

Charter to be deposited in the library.

THAT the charter granted to the said company shall be deposited in the library for the inspection and perusal of all persons concerned; who shall also have recourse to the journals of the Directors, the minutes and entries of their Secretaries, with the Treasurer's accounts, and all other books and papers belonging to the company; and may, if the Directors think fit, take copies thereof.

A Law for recording the laws of the company, and the names of such persons as shall hereafter be admitted members thereof, &c.

TO THE END that the laws of the Library Company of Philadelphia may be securely preserved, and that every member of the said company may have opportunity of being fully acquainted therewith;

Laws to be recorded, &c.

It is hereby enacted by the said company, that all laws passed at the general meetings of the said company, pursuant to their charter, shall be recorded in a large bound book, of good paper, which shall be safely kept in the library for the perusal of the company; and that every law so recorded, shall be certified and subscribed in the said book by the Secretary for the time being.

Name, &c. of a new admitted member to be recorded.

And it is hereby further enacted, by the said company, That every person who now is, or that hereafter shall be admitted, and become a member of the said company (other than those whose names are inserted in the charter) shall have his name, and the time of his becoming a member as aforesaid, recorded in the said book of records, and certified by the Secretary, as aforesaid. And that all other matters and things, which by the laws of the company are or shall be directed to be put upon record, shall also be recorded in the said book.

---

IT IS ENACTED, That the members of the Library Company of Philadelphia, shall hold their estate and interest in the said company, as tenants in common, and not as joint tenants.

The foregoing laws were all enacted and published May the 3d, 1742.

Signed by order,
JOSEPH BREINTNALL, Secretary.

A law for reducing and fixing the price at which a share in the library may be purchased, and to enable the Directors to dispose of duplicates of books, &c.

For the increasing the funds of the Library Company of Philadelphia, for the enlarging the collection of books, and facilitating the advancement of knowledge and literature, IT IS ENACTED by the said Library Company, That any person or persons (who shall be approved of by the Directors for the time being) shall be admitted a member or members of the said company, and be entitled to a share in the books, effects and estate of the said company, as fully, to all intents and purposes, as any member now is, or may or can be, upon paying into the hands of the said company's Treasurer, the sum of TEN POUNDS, lawful money of Pennsylvania, and receiving a certificate, &c. agreeably to the directions of a law directing the manner of admitting new members.

Fixing the price of a share.

And it is further enacted, That the Directors of the said company for the time being, shall and may, from time to time, as to them shall seem meet, sell and dispose of such duplicates and broken sets of books as shall be found in the said library, and the moneys arising from such sale to pay to the company's Treasurer, for the use of the said library.

Directors authorized to sell duplicates, &c.

The above law was enacted and published February 20, 1768.

FRANCIS HOPKINSON, Secretary.

A Law for ascertaining the fines for neglecting the yearly payments.

WHEREAS by a law of the Library Company of Philadelphia, entitled "A Law for ascertaining the fines for neglecting the yearly payments," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "That if any member or members of the said company shall neglect to pay his or their yearly payments, for any time not exceeding three months, from and after the first Monday in May, that he or they shall pay the sum of Five Shillings as a fine, together with the said Ten Shillings;" which said law has been found inconvenient and too strict:

It is therefore hereby enacted, by the Library Company of Philadelphia aforesaid, That if any member make his yearly payment within ten days after the said first Monday in May, the same shall be accepted without a fine; but if any member neglect to pay the yearly sum aforesaid, on the said first Monday in May, and for ten days afterwards, for any time longer, not exceeding three months from and after the said first Monday in May, such member shall pay to the Treasurer for the time being, the fine of Five Shillings, together with his said yearly payment. And for neglecting as aforesaid for any time above three months, and not exceeding six months, the fine of Ten Shillings. And for neglecting as aforesaid for any time above six months, and not exceeding nine months, the fine of Fifteen Shillings. And for neglecting as aforesaid for any time above nine months, and not exceeding twelve months, the fine of Fines settled.

Twenty Shillings. Any thing in the said recited law to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding.

Enacted and published the thirteenth of March, 1769.

FRANCIS HOPKINSON, Secretary.

A Law to enable the Directors of the Library Company of Philadelphia, to admit the members of the Union Library Company of Philadelphia.

Directors have power to admit the members of the Union Library Company.

WHEREAS it is conceived that great advantages may arise to the public, as well as to the individual members, by a union of the Library Companies aforesaid: Be it enacted by the Library Company of Philadelphia, that their Directors for the time being, shall have full power and authority to admit the members of the Union Library Company; and that each member so admitted, shall, by virtue thereof, be entitled to an equal share of all the estate both real and personal belonging to the said Library Company of Philadelphia, in common with their other members; and shall receive accordingly certificates thereof. Provided always, That previous thereto, the said Union Library Company do assign over and convey all their estate, both real and personal, to the said Library Company of Philadelphia, and deliver possession thereof to the Directors for the time being; subject nevertheless to all such contracts heretofore made and now subsisting between the said Union Library Company and any of their members, as the said Directors shall deem proper and expedient.

Enacted and published the 13*th of March*, 1769.

FRANCIS HOPKINSON, Secretary.

A Law to enable the Directors of the Library Company of Philadelphia, to purchase a lot of ground in the City of Philadelphia, to erect a building thereon for the use of the institution, and for other purposes therein mentioned.

Directors empowered to purchase a lot.

IN order to accommodate the company with a lot of ground, and a convenient building for the uses of the library, IT IS ENACTED by the Library Company of Philadelphia, That the Directors shall have power and authority to purchase a lot in the city of Philadelphia, on ground rent, on the best terms they can procure, and to cause to be executed, on behalf of the company, a proper counterpart of the deed to be received for the said ground.

And erect a building.

THAT the Directors shall have power to contract for materials and workmanship, and to cause to be erected a suitable building, with cellars, the said building to be two stories high, and of a size sufficient to accommodate and serve the purposes of the library, having regard therein to a gradual increase of books, and other articles there to be deposited.

THAT in order to defray the expense of the said building, the Directors shall endeavour to make an addition to the number of the members, by disposing of shares, and having procured one hundred new members, they may proceed on the work, and may appropriate the moneys now due, and becoming due, and belonging to the company, as well as the cash in the hands of the Treasurer, reserving enough for the current expenses of the library. And the Directors are hereby empowered to grant, bargain and sell for the highest price they can obtain, and by deed or deeds, under the common seal of the company, convey and assure all or any part of the real estate belonging to the company, and to appropriate the moneys arising from the said sales to the purposes aforesaid.

One hundred shares to be previously disposed of.

Directors empowered to sell the real estate belonging to the company.

It is hereby further enacted, That the Directors for the time being, may sell or let out on ground rent for ever, and by deed or deeds, under the common seal of the company, convey and assure such part of the lot they may purchase, as they may judge proper.

And part of the lot which they may purchase.

Enacted at a general meeting, held pursuant to public notice, on Monday the first day of June, 1789.

W. RAWLE, Secretary.

A law for increasing the price of Shares.

FOR the increasing the funds of the Library Company of Philadelphia, for the enlarging the collection of books, and facilitating the advancement of knowledge and literature, It is enacted by the said Library Company of Philadelphia, That any person or persons (who shall be approved of by the Directors for the time being) shall be admitted a member or members of the said Company as fully, to all intents and purposes, as any member now is or can be, upon paying into the hands of the said Company's Treasurer, the sum of FORTY DOLLARS, and receiving a certificate, agreeably to the directions of a law directing the manner of admitting new members.

And be it further enacted, That so much of the law, passed on the twentieth day of February, one thousand seven hundred and sixty-eight, as fixes the price of a share at ten pounds, be hereby repealed.

Enacted at a general meeting, held pursuant to public notice, on Friday, the thirtieth day of August, 1793.

BENJAMIN R. MORGAN, Secretary.

At a meeting of the Directors, on the second of January, 1794, the following report was made and adopted by the Board, to wit:

THE committee to whom was referred the application of the Librarian, relative to the cases of executors and administrators of deceased members, report,

That it would be advisable to direct the Librarian, that no books shall be lent, in such cases, except on notes signed by all the executors or administrators of the person deceased, or by some one of them, appointed and authorized by written orders of the others—such orders to be left with the Librarian as long as any books are taken out by virtue of them.

Extracted from the minutes of the Directors.

An act to repeal so much of any law or laws of the Company, as authorizes the Directors to dispose of the real estate belonging to the Company.

It is enacted by the Library Company of Philadelphia, That so much of any law or laws as authorizes and empowers the Directors to grant or demise any part of the real estate belonging to the said Company shall be and the same is hereby repealed. Provided always, nothing herein contained shall be deemed or taken to restrain the Directors from making leases or agreements relative to the building erected for the reception of the Loganian Library, the cellar under the same, and the cellar under the building in which the Library belonging to this institution is now contained.

Enacted at a general meeting held pursuant to public notice, on the sixteenth day of March, 1795.

BENJAMIN R. MORGAN, Secretary.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Library Company of Philadelphia, April 17, 1795.

WHEREAS, by an act of the General Assembly, passed on the thirteenth day of April instant, the Directors of the Library Company of Philadelphia are authorized to increase the annual payments to be made by each member to the sum of two dollars, it is therefore Resolved, That the annual payment to be made on each share, on the first Monday of May next, and from and after that time, shall be, and it is hereby, increased to the sum of two dollars, and the Treasurer is hereby authorized and instructed, to demand and receive the same from the members, under the like penalties and forfeitures as are now in force for recovering the annual payments heretofore established.

Extracted from the Minutes.

BENJAMIN R. MORGAN, Secretary.

At a meeting of the Directors, held the sixth of August, 1795, the following resolution was adopted, to wit:

RESOLVED, That every member, or other person, who shall take out a book or books on hire, shall pay, for the use of the Library, the following rates weekly: For Duodecimos and Octavos two-sixteenths of a dollar, Quartos three-sixteenths of a dollar, and Folios four-sixteenths of a dollar, and no smaller sum, although the book may be returned within the week.

That for neglecting to return the book or books, so taken out on hire, within the time specified in the rules of the Company, they shall pay to the Librarian, for the use aforesaid, two-sixteenths of a dollar per week in addition to the hire.*

Extracted from the Minutes.

At a meeting of the Directors held November 7, 1805, the following resolution was adopted, to wit:

BOOKS belonging to this institution, having in several instances been obtained by printers, and taken to pieces for the purpose of enabling them to print new editions, and such practices being deemed inconsistent with the purposes for which the Library has been established, Resolved, that in all future cases of a similar nature suits shall be brought against the parties transgressing.

Extracted from the Minutes.

At a meeting of the Directors, held October 2, 1806, the following resolution was adopted, to wit:

RESOLVED, That the gazettes or public newspapers belonging to this institution be annually valued by the labelling committee for the time being, and the said valuation placed in the hands of the Librarian, and in case the same or any part thereof be required by any counsel or attorney as evidence in the courts of justice, the person applying for the same shall sign one of the notes usually taken for books borrowed of the Library, which note shall be filled up in the sum at which the whole set of such papers, of which any volume or volumes are required, shall have been last valued, and also that the same shall be returned within one week from the time of borrowing the same, and fifty cents per diem for each volume paid for its use on its being returned.

Extracted from the Minutes.

BENJAMIN R. MORGAN, Secretary.

* For the further penalties see the rules and regulations annexed, particularly the third and fourth.

A Law to increase the annual payments hereafter to be made by the members of the Library Company of Philadelphia.

WHEREAS, by an act of the Legislature of this Commonwealth, entitled, "An act to amend the Charter of the Library Company of Philadelphia," approved by the Governor, on the seventh day of April, 1832, the members of the said Library Company of Philadelphia, at their general meetings, are authorized to fix, alter, or enlarge the annual payments thereafter to be made, from time to time, as they shall deem just and reasonable: Provided the same shall, at no time, be fixed at less than two, or more than five dollars per annum, exclusive of the accustomed penalties or forfeitures for delay or neglect of payment:—And whereas, the annual payments heretofore received have become insufficient to procure the necessary number of books, and to defray the unavoidable expenses of the company:

Be it therefore enacted by the said Library Company of Philadelphia, That the annual payment to be made on each share, on the first Monday of May next, and from and after that time, shall be, and it is hereby increased to the sum of Four Dollars, and the Treasurer of the Company is hereby authorized and required to demand and receive the same from the members respectively, under the like penalties and forfeitures as are now in force for recovering the annual payments heretofore established.

Enacted into a law at a general meeting, held pursuant to public notice, on the twenty-eighth day of April, 1832.

W. RAWLE, Chairman.

Attest—HENRY J. WILLIAMS, Secretary.

By-Law of the Loganian Library, adopted February 14, 1833.

The members of the Library Company shall be permitted to take out books from the Loganian Library upon signing a promissory note to return the same undefaced within the time limited by the existing by-law, and upon pledging at the same time their respective shares in the company as security for such return: Provided, That no such pledge shall be received, if at the time of applying for a book in the Loganian Library, the applicant has out a book from the Philadelphia Library upon the same share: And provided also, That such pledge shall not be received as a sufficient security for any books that shall be considered by the Librarian as of greater value by itself than twenty dollars.

By-law of the Philadelphia Library, adopted February 14, 1833.

No member shall be entitled to take out a book upon his or her share who at the same time has a book out of the Loganian Library upon a pledge of the same share.

RULES

TO BE OBSERVED BY THE

from 10 A.M.

I. The Librarian shall attend at the Library, every day (Sundays excepted) from the first day of April until the first day of October, from two o'clock, P. M. until sun-set, and from the first day of October until the first day of April, from one o'clock, P. M. until sun-set. He shall enter in the catalogue, kept at the library, such books as may be purchased or added to the library; label and number the same, as well as all others from which the label or number may be torn off or defaced. He shall also replace the books on the shelves, as they are brought in, as soon as he conveniently can, first having examined whether they are free from damage.

II. He shall lend to any member,

One Folio for five,
One Quarto for three,
One Octavo, or Two Duodecimos, for two } Weeks, and no greater number, unless on hire, or so connected as to be otherwise useless. Such persons, however, who reside at the distance of seven miles or upwards, are permitted to have books one week longer than the above-mentioned times. For all books so lent, he shall take a note, payable to the Company, for double the value, as nigh as he can estimate, of the book or set of books to which they belong, conditioned to return the same, undefaced, within the time above mentioned; at the expiration of which (unless application has been made by another member for the same books, and the Librarian requested to take a memorandum thereof,) the borrower may, on producing the book to the Librarian, renew his note for the like time.

III. Every person, not being a member, who shall hire a book, &c. shall first give a note for double the value thereof, in the same manner, and be subject to the same regulations, as a member; and shall also deposite, as security, in the hands of the Librarian, double the value of such book or books; but if the book or books should belong to a set, then such person shall deposite treble the value of the volume or volumes which he shall so take out.

IV. Every member, or other person, who shall take out a book or books on hire, shall pay, for the use of the library, the following rates, weekly: For Duodecimos and Octavos two-sixteenths of a dollar, Quartos, three-sixteenths of a dollar, and Folios four-sixteenths of a dollar, and no smaller sum, although the book may be returned within the week.

V. Every member, or other person, who shall neglect to return the book or books, within the time specified in the second rule, shall for such neglect, pay to the Librarian, for the use of the library, (besides the hire, where the book is not taken out by virtue of a share,) two-sixteenths of a dollar per week: and if not returned, undefaced, within one month from the expiration of the time limited in the note, the fines and hire accruing thereupon shall be doubled; and if not so returned within three months from the same period, the note or deposite money shall be forfeited to the company.

VI. Books returned are to be delivered into the hands of the Librarian, to be examined whether damaged or not.

VII. No person from whom any hire or forfeiture is due, or who hath damaged any book, shall be permitted to have another book till satisfaction be made.

VIII. If a member, and one who is not a member, should apply for the same book at the same time, the member shall have the preference.

IX. A member may take out on hire, without a deposite, as many books in value for which his share in the library shall, by the Librarian, be deemed a sufficient security, on the same terms, in other respects, as persons who are not members.

X. The Librarian shall furnish the Directors, at each monthly meeting, with an account of the fines and forfeitures which have accrued during the preceding month.

XI. The Librarian is to conform to the instructions of the Directors with regard to such books as, from their scarcity and value, are to be let out only on certain conditions, or not at all.

XII. No person, whether a member or not, is to lend the book or books he borrows to any person out of his dwelling-house.

XIII. No book shall be lent on the share of a deceased member, unless the note be signed by all the executors or administrators of such deceased member, or by some one of them, appointed and authorized by written orders of the others.

* The Instrument of Association, signed by thirty-eight Members, was dated July 1, 1731. The first meeting of the Directors, therein appointed, was held on the eighth day of November following. The first importation of Books from London, amounting to £45 sterling, arrived the last of October, 1732, and on the fourteenth of the next ensuing month Louis Timothée, the first Librarian, was appointed, and the Library thereupon opened in a chamber of Robert Grace's house, in Pewter-platter Alley, now called Jones's Alley. On the seventh of April, 1740, the Library was removed from thence to the western wing of the State-house. In August, 1773, it was transferred to the Carpenters' Hall, and in October, 1790, it was placed in the present building.

† At this time the Union Library (into which the Amicable and Association Libraries had previously merged) was incorporated with this Company, and John De Mauregnault, Librarian of the former, and Ludowic Sprogle, Librarian of the latter Company, jointly performed the duties of that station, until the first of May, 1770, when Ludowic Sprogle resigned.

LOGARITHMS, MATHEMATICAL TABLES, AND INSTRUMENTS.

Adams, 2041, & 8087, O. Geometrical and graphical essays, containing a general description of the mathematical instruments used in geometry and surveying, with many new practical problems. By the late George Adams. 4th edit. Corrected and enlarged by William Jones. London, 1791—1813.

Bion, 174, F. The construction and uses of mathematical instruments. Translated from the French of M. Bion. To which are added, the construction and uses of such instruments as are omitted by M. Bion. By Edmund Stone. With plates. 2d edit. London, 1758.

Blagrave, 2005, Q. The mathematical jewel: showing the making and most excellent use of a singular instrument so called; in that it performeth with wonderful dexteritie, whatsoever is to be done, either by quadrant, ship, circle, cylinder, ring, dyal, horoscope, &c. &c. &c. By John Blagrave, of Reading, Gent. With cuts, &c. London, 1584.

Mountaine, 7883, O. A description of the lines drawn on Gunter's scale, as improved by Mr. John Robertson, and executed by Messrs. Nairne and Blunt, with their rise and application to practice exemplified, more especially in navigation and astronomy. By William Mountaine. London, 1788.

Robertson, 8063, & 8333, O. 1. A treatise of such mathematical instruments as are usually put into a portable case. By John Robertson. London, 1775.

Taylor, 592, F. Tables of logarithms of all numbers, from 1 to 101000, and of the sines and tangents to every second of the quadrant. By Michael Taylor. With a preface and precepts for the explanation and use of the same, by Nevil Maskelyne. London, 1792.

——— 997, Q. Sexagesimal tables. By Michael Taylor. London, 1780. Gift of Capt. William Vicary.

CALCULATION OF PROBABILITIES—LIFE ANNUITIES.

Babbage, 6108, O. A comparative view of the various institutions for the assurances of lives. By Charles Babbage, Esq. London, 1826.

Bailey, 4151, O. The doctrine of life annuities and assurances, analytically investigated and explained; with several useful tables connected with the subject, and a variety of practical rules, for the illustration of the same. By Francis Bailey. London, 1810.

Campbell, 4274, O. The value of annuities from 1*l.* to 1000*l.* per annum, on single lives, from the age of one to ninety years; with the number of years purchase each annuity is worth, and the rate of interest the purchaser receives. By William Campbell, Esq. London, 1810.

Clerc, Le, 1751, O. 2. Reflections upon what the world commonly call good-luck and ill-luck, with regard to lotteries; and of the use which may be made of them. Translated into English from the French of Mons. Le Clerc. London, 1758.

Gordon, 1591, O. 4. Plan of a society for making provision for widows, by annuities for life. By Wm. Gordon. Boston, 1772.

Moivre, De, 1046, O. Annuities on lives. By A De Moivre. London, 1752.

Morgan, 5624, O. The principles and doctrines of assurances, annuities on lives and contingent reversions, stated and explained. By William Morgan, F. R. S. London, 1821.

——— 1215, & 1311, O. The doctrine of annuities and assurances on lives and survivorships. By William Morgan. With an essay on the present state of population in England and Wales. By Doctor Price. London, 1779.

Price, 1037, O. Observations on reversionary payments, on schemes for providing annuities for widows, &c. and on the national debt. By Richard Price. 2d edition, with a supplement. London, 1772.

—— 1106, O. 4. A supplement to the second edition of "Price's observations on reversionary payments." London, 1772.

606, F. 10. Proposal of the mercer's company for granting annuities, February 8, 1698.

4438, O. An address from the president and directors of the Pennsylvania company for insurance on lives and granting annuities. Philadelphia, 1814. Gift of the directors.

8628, O. 8. Report of the committee of the annuity society. London, 1805.

8639, O. 1. The plan and by-rules of the London annuity society to make provision for widows. London, 1806.

8640, O. 3. Tables for renewing and purchasing leases. London, 1735.

2076, O. 2. Tontines calculated, and their principles and consequences explained, and exemplified in the Yorkshire tontine; with hints for one on an improved plan. London, 1791.

MECHANICS—HYDROSTATICS—DESCRIPTION OF MACHINES—STEAM ENGINES, &c.

Atwood, 1352, O. A treatise on the rectilinear motion and rotation of bodies; and a description of original experiments relative to the subject; with plates. By George Atwood. Cambridge, 1784.

Alderson, 9057, D. An essay on the nature and application of steam. With an historical notice of the rise and progressive improvement of the steam engine. By M. A. Alderson, civil engineer. London, 1834.

Bailey, 299, F. Advancement of arts, manufactures and commerce; or descriptions of the useful machines and models contained in the repository of the society for the encouragement of arts, &c. and an account of the several discoveries and improvements promoted by the society; with a volume of plates. By William Bailey. London, 1772.

——— 589, F. A hundred and six copperplates of mechanical machines, and implements of husbandry, approved and adopted by the society for the encouragement of arts, manufactures, and commerce; with a particular description of each instrument. By Alexander M. Bailey. 2 vols. in one. London, 1782.

Baldwin, 1451, O. Airopaidia; containing the narrative of a balloon excursion from Chester, September 8, 1785; hints on the improvement of balloons; with plates, extensive tables, and various philosophical observations and conjectures, serving as an introduction to aerial navigation. By Thomas Baldwin. Chester, 1786.

Barlow, 5096, O. 1. An essay on the strength and stress of timber, founded upon experiments, preceded by an historical review of former theories and experiments; also, an appendix on the strength of iron and other materials. By Peter Barlow. London, 1817.

Bate, 473, Q. The mysteries of nature and art; with cuts. By John Bate. 2d edit. London, 1635.

Beatson, 2595, O. 4. An essay on the comparative advantages of vertical and horizontal wind-mills; with plates. By Robert Beatson. London, 1798.

Belidor, 245, Q. Architecture hydraulique, ou l'art de conduire, d'elever et de menager les eaux. Par M. Belidor. 5 tomes. A Paris, 1737.

Bigland, 2948, O. 1. The mechanic's guide; or a treatise on the laws of mechanics, as they relate to wheel machines. By Wm. Bigland. Margate, 1797.

Bland, 5980, O. The elements of hydrostatics, with their application to the solution of problems. By Miles Bland, B. D. Cambridge, 1824.

Bramah, 1977, O. 8. A dissertation on the construction of locks. By Joseph Bramah. London, 1787.

Buchanan, 3939, O. An essay on the teeth of wheels, and their application to mill-work and other machinery. By Robertson Buchanan. Revised by Peter Nicholson. London, 1808.

—— —— 6021, O. Practical essays on mill-work and other machinery. By Robertson Buchanan. 2d edit. With notes and additional articles, by Thomas Tredgold. 2 vols. London, 1823.

—— —— 4919, O. A practical treatise on propelling vessels by steam, &c. By Robertson Buchanan. Glasgow, 1816.

Chapman, 5096, O. 2. A treatise, containing the results of numerous experiments on the preservation of timber from premature decay. By Wm. Chapman. London, 1817.

Clark, 262, Q. 1. An easy introduction to the theory and practice of mechanics. By Samuel Clark. London, 1764.

Cotes, 2987, O. Hydrostatical and pneumatical lectures. With plates. By Roger Cotes, A. M. 2d edit. Cambridge, 1747.

Croix, De la, 409, Q. De la Croix on the mechanism of the motions of floating bodies. Translated from the French, by Admiral Knowles. London, 1775.

Cutbush, 8622, O. 4. Hydrostatics; or, a treatise on specific gravity. By James Cutbush. Philadelphia, 1812.

Duer, 5289, O. 1. A letter to Cadwallader D. Colden, Esq. in answer to the strictures contained in his "Life of Robert Fulton," on the report of the committee on the memorial relative to steam navigation; with an appendix. By Wm. Alexander Duer, Esq. Albany, 1817. Gift of the author.

Duer, 5289, O. 3. A reply to Mr. Colden's vindication of the steam-boat monopoly, with an appendix. By W. A. Duer, Esq. Albany, 1819. Gift of the author.

—— 5108, 2. & 5289, O. 2. A vindication, by Cadwallader D. Colden, Esq. of the steam-boat right granted by the state of New York, in answer to the letter of Mr. Duer. Albany, 1818. Gift of Mr. Duer.

Dodd, 5155, O. An historical and explanatory dissertation on steam-engines and steam-packets, with the evidence given to the committees of the house of commons, together with the committees' reports. By George Dodd. London, 1818.

Emerson, 491, O. The principles of mechanics; explaining the general laws of motion, the laws of gravity, &c. By William Emerson. London, 1754.

—— 169, Q. The same. 2d edit. London, 1758.

Evans, 7434, O. The abortion of the young steam engineer's guide, containing an investigation of the principles, construction, and powers of steam-engines. Illustrated with five engravings. By Oliver Evans. Philadelphia, 1805.

Farey, 1934, Q. A treatise on the steam engine, historical, practical and descriptive. By John Farey. London, 1827.

Fenwick, 3044, O. 1. Four essays on practical mechanics. By Thomas Fenwick. 2d edit. Newcastle-upon-Tyne, 1802.

Ferguson, 91, Q. Lectures on select subjects in mechanics, hydrostatics, pneumatics and optics; with the use of the globes; the art of dialling, and the calculation of the mean times of new and full moons, and eclipses; with plates. By James Ferguson. London, 1764.

—— 92, Q. A supplement to the lectures on select subjects; with plates. By James Ferguson. London, 1767.

—— 7762, O. Ferguson's lectures on select subjects in mechanics, hydrostatics, optics, and dialling. A new edition, with notes, by David Brewster; revised and corrected, by Robert Patterson. 2 vols. and Atlas. Philadelphia, 1806.

—— 8632, O. 2. Analysis of a course of lectures on mechanics, &c. By James Ferguson. London, 1761.

Gamble, 784, Q. 2. An essay on the different modes of communication by signals; containing an history of the improvements in this art. By John Gamble. London, 1797.

Gray, 5324, O. 1. A treatise on spinning machinery; illustrated with plans of different machines made use of in that art; with some observations, tending to show that the arts of spinning, weaving and sewing, were invented by the ingenuity of females. By Andrew Gray. Edinburgh, 1819.

Gregory, 4391, O. A treatise on mechanics, theoretical, practical and descriptive. By Olinthus Gregory, A. M. 2d edit. With improvements. 3 vols. London, 1807.

Griffith, 9121, O. 4. An essay on the art of boring the earth for obtainment of water; with hints for a new theory for the rise of waters. By Mr. Griffith. New Brunswick, 1826.

Hales, 757, O. A description of ventilators; whereby fresh air may with ease be conveyed into mines, gaols, hospitals, work-houses, and ships. By Stephen Hales. London, 1743.

Hawkesbee, 808, O. Physico-mechanical experiments, on various subjects; with explanations of all the machines engraved on copper. By F. Hawkesbee. 2d edit. London, 1719.

Kater, 4178, D. The cabinet of natural philosophy; conducted by the Rev. Dionysius Lardner. Mechanics, by Captain Henry Kater. London, 1830.

Kater, 4282, D. A treatise on mechanics. By Captain Henry Kater and Dionysius Lardner. Philadelphia, 1831.

Lanz, 1770, Q. 2. Analytical essay on the construction of machines. Translated from the French of M. M. Lanz and Bétancourt. London, 1819.

Lardner, 4245, D. A treatise on hydrostatics and pneumatics. By the Rev. Dionysius Lardner. London, 1831.

Macdonald, 3932, O. A treatise on telegraphic communication, naval, military and political; in which the defects of the present system are obviated by the introduction of a numerical portable dictionary, calculated to be the medium of carrying on distant conversation without any liability to confusion, error, or mistake; illustrated by linear plates. By John Macdonald, Esq. London, 1808.

Marrat, 4327, O. An introduction to the theory and practice of mechanics; in five books, for the use of schools; with examples. By W. Marrat. Boston, 1810.

Moseley, 6032, D. A treatise on mechanics, applied to the arts, including statics and hydrostatics. By the Rev. H. Moseley. London, 1834.

Nicholson, 6038, O. The operative mechanic and British machinist; being a practical display of the manufactories and mechanical arts of the united kingdom. By John Nicholson, Esq. London, 1825.

Partington, 5628, O. An historical and descriptive account of the steam-engine, comprising a general view of the various modes of employing elastic vapour as a prime mover in mechanics; with an appendix of patents. By Charles Frederick Partington. London, 1822.

Renwick, 3976, D. Popular lectures on the steam engine, with an historical sketch of its invention and progressive improvement. By the Rev. Dionysius Lardner. With additions, by James Renwick. New York, 1828.

——— 7171, O. A treatise on the steam engine. By James Renwick, LL. D. New York, 1830.

Robison, 3686, O. The elements of mechanical philosophy; with plates. By John Robison. Edinburgh, 1804.

——— 5579, O. A system of mechanical philosophy. By John Robison. With notes, by David Brewster, LL. D. 4 vols. and a volume of plates. Edinburgh, 1822.

Ross, 1945, Q. A treatise on navigation by steam; comprising a history of the steam engine, and an essay towards a system of the naval tactics peculiar to steam navigation, as applicable both to commerce and maritime warfare. By Captain John Ross, R. N. London, 1828.

Rumsey, 1632, 4. & 2269, O. 7. A short treatise on the application of steam, whereby is clearly shown from actual experiments, that steam may be applied to propel boats or vessels. By James Rumsey. Philadelphia, 1788. Gift of Zachariah Poulson.

——— 1632, O. 3. The original steam-boat supported; or a reply to James Rumsey's pamphlet; showing the true priority of John Fitch, and the false datings, &c. of James Rumsey. Philadelphia, 1788.

——— 1758, O. 4. Remarks on John Fitch's reply to James Rumsey's pamphlet. By Joseph Barnes. Philadelphia, 1788. Gift of Zachariah Poulson.

Schmeitz, 187, F. Theatrum machinarum novum opera Henrici Schmeitz. Coloniæ Agrippinæ, 1662.

Simpson, 163, Q. Miscellaneous tracts on some interesting subjects in mechanics, physical astronomy, and speculative mathematics. By Thomas Simpson. London, 1757.

Smeaton, 1656, Q. The miscellaneous papers of John Smeaton, comprising his communications to the royal society, illustrated with plates. London, 1814.

Smeaton, 2283, O. An experimental inquiry concerning the natural powers of wind and water to turn mills and other machines depending on a circular motion, &c. With plates. By John Smeaton. London, 1794.

——— 829, Q. Reports, made on various occasions in the course of his employment of an engineer. By John Smeaton.

Stewart, 4294, D. Historical and descriptive anecdotes of steam engines, and of their inventors and improvers. By Robert Stewart, civil engineer. 2 vols. London, 1829.

Stuart, 6061, O. A descriptive history of the steam engine. By Robert Stuart, Esq. 2d edit. London, 1824.

Switzer, 103, Q. An introduction to a general system of hydrostatics and hydraulics, philosophical and practical; wherein the most advantageous methods of raising and conducting water are laid down. By Stephen Switzer. 2 vols. in one. London, 1729.

Van Zyl, 645, Q. 5. Johannis Van Zyl's theatrum machinarum universale; of groot Algemen moolen-boek, &c. Te Amsterdam, 1734. Gift of John B. Bordley.

Worcester, 525, D. A century of the names and scantlings of the Marquis of Worcester's inventions. London, 1663.

8674, O. Report on steam carriages, by a select committee of the house of commons of Great Britain; with the minutes of evidence and appendix. Washington, 1832.

ASTRONOMY, ASTRONOMICAL TABLES, ATLASES, INSTRUMENTS, &c.

Adams, 3210, O. Astronomical and geographical essays. By George Adams. London, 1789. P.

——— 7841, O. A treatise describing the construction, and explaining the use of new celestial and terrestrial globes. By George Adams. 5th edit. London, 1782.

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.

ALL who have used this invaluable medicine for Asthma, Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Whooping Cough, Croup or Hives, Consumption, Pleurisy, Inflammation of the Lungs or Chest, Hoarseness, Pain and Soreness of the Breast, Difficulty of Breathing, and every other disease of the Lungs and Breast, attest its usefulness. Bronchitis, a disease which is annually sweeping thousands to a premature grave, under the mistaken name of Consumption, is always cured by it. It always cures Asthma—two or three large doses will cure the Croup or Hives in a few minutes. It immediately subdues the violence of Whooping Cough, and effects a speedy cure. Thousands who have been given up by their physicians as incurable with "Consumption," have been restored to perfect health by it.

It is one of the most prompt, safe and pleasant sudorifics or sweating medicines, and when given in the commencement of Inflammatory Fevers, Pleurisy, Inflammation of the Lungs, Catarrhal Affections, Pains in the Chest, Joints, Bones, or Muscles, Acute Rheumatism, &c., in doses large enough to cause a slight nausea, (the patient at the same time covering up warmly in bed, and drinking freely of cold water,) it will in a short time produce a profuse perspiration, which, if continued for two or three hours, will subdue those affections at once.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.

IN USING the Expectorant for Coughs, Whooping Cough, Tightness of the Chest, Pain in the Breast, or Difficulty of Breathing, it should be taken whenever the cough or pain, or tightness of the chest or throat, or the difficulty of breathing require its use, no matter at what time of day or night, and the dose repeated as often as each particular case may require, until the desired relief is obtained. Sometimes three or four doses a day may be sufficient, while at other times it may require eight, ten, or a dozen doses during the day and night.

FOR ADULTS, the usual dose is about two teaspoonsful.

FOR YOUTHS, from fourteen to twenty-one years old, from a teaspoonful and a third to two teaspoonsful.

FOR CHILDREN ten years old, one teaspoonful; seven years, forty drops; four years, thirty drops; three years, twenty drops; two years, fifteen drops: and one year old, from five to ten drops.

vals, until expectoration becomes easy, and the oppression in breathing becomes more or less removed. No larger quantity, however, should be given than is requisite to produce the desired effect, and the doses need not be repeated until required by the return of the cough, or difficulty of breathing. The bowels should be kept regular, and the body and feet dry and warmly clothed. The diet should be light, and less in quantity than when enjoying good health. The stomach should never be oppressed with food while laboring under this or any other disease of the lungs.

Bronchitis, yearly sweeps thousands to a premature grave, under the mistaken name of CONSUMPTION. Its symptoms are Cough, Soreness of the Lungs or Throat, Hoarseness, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, a Hectic Fever, a Spitting up of Phlegm or Matter, and sometimes Blood. It is an inflammation of the fine skin which lines the inside of the whole of the wind-tubes or air-vessels which run

A LIGHT AMIDST THE DARKNESS.

In the year 969, Aelfric, Archbishop of Canterbury, and a disciple of Ethelwold, translated the Bible out of the Latin (in which language alone it had been used by the learned) into the Saxon, the language of the common people. He says: "Although it may appear to be an attempt of some rashness and presumption, yet have I ventured to translate this book out of the Latin writers into our common language, for the edification of the ignorant who understand only this language when it is either read or spoken. Wherefore I have not used obscure or unintelligible words, but given the plain English. By which means the hearts, both of the readers and hearers, may be reached more easily," etc., etc. So there was one star shining amidst the age when monkery kept the people in the gloom of spiritual ignorance. Let the name of AELFRIC be forever honored.

STORY:—Two men who had to go to work early in the mor e disturbed by a boarder overhead pacing the floor. They could s longer, so dressed and knocked at his door. He explained that he ge bill to pay a Mr. Jones in the morning, and could not sleep a unable to meet it They asked if he had tried every honorable wa the money, to which he replied in the affirmative. One of the below responded: "WELL, YOU FOOL, GO TO BED AND LET JO
